New Publications:
Psychiatry - Primary Care Faculty

Over 100 selected publications of the 20 NRSA fellows who have graduated from the program are listed below. As seen in these publications, most have been studies in the interface of psychiatry and primary care and are published in excellent medical and psychiatric journals. Ten of the former fellows have already attained federal, state or foundation research grants to continue to pursue research in the interface of medicine and psychiatry. Dr. Katon's 21-year-old NRSA fellowship program has accomplished its goal of enhancing mental health services training for physicians, as evidenced by the appointment of our fellows to 8 different major university medical schools in the United States.
